At the start of the 2020–2021 school year, Dean Matthew J. Slaughter announced a new leadership role and appointment within the Deans’ Office at the Tuck School of Business: one that would build upon the strengths of the community, advance the pursuit of the school’s mission, and elevate a commitment to organizational change. Effective September 1, 2020, Dia Draper became the first Assistant Dean for Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion at the Tuck School. She assumed the role full-time starting January 1, 2021.

Among Dean Draper’s portfolio is a charge to assess Tuck’s approach to diversity, equity, and inclusion; work with teams across the school to develop recommendations to ensure the inclusion of underrepresented perspectives across offerings and settings; and guide Tuck’s DEI plans forward, facilitating the setting of goals and the benchmarking of progress.

The school established an internal working group comprised of staff members Elle Higgins, Matthew Lotterhand, Miguel Ramirez, Taryn Rich, and Michele Wheeler, and an advisory team of students, alumni, faculty, and staff tasked with supporting a comprehensive strategic review of Tuck’s culture, climate, and engagement with DEI. Hundreds of MBA students, alumni, faculty, and staff participated in surveys and interviews during this review process. It is their experiences, feedback, and ideas that have informed our data-driven and people-centered approach.

The Tuck Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) Action Plan is based on this year-long process and a review of community culture, curriculum, MBA student recruitment, employee hiring and retention, co-curricular, and community engagement activities all through the lens of diversity and inclusion.
TUCK DEVELOPS WISE, DECISIVE LEADERS WHO BETTER THE WORLD THROUGH BUSINESS.

Diversity and inclusion are cornerstones to delivering on that mission. Among the attributes of wisdom are the inclusivity and empathy to understand and work effectively with others, and core to decisiveness is the ability to thoughtfully seize opportunities. It is through wise, decisive leadership that bold decisions can be made to substantially improve business performance and the world we live in.

DEI MISSION

To foster a culture and environment where all members of the Tuck community feel included and have the support to thrive.

We will honor diversity in all its forms, welcome each person as they are, and provide the spaces and opportunities to engage in respectful, meaningful, and growth-oriented discussion and debate.

We will model what truly diverse and inclusive leadership looks like within academic and business communities.

"I firmly believe that inclusive cultural, gender, religious and political diversity leads to more thorough analysis, hedges risk, produces better solutions and optimizes gains.

DAVID GRAIN T'89
TUCK BOARD OF ADVISORS
Our Acknowledgement

We acknowledge that no DEI action plan can eliminate or solve society’s complex problems. We are nevertheless committed to making our Tuck community as inviting, inclusive, equitable and diverse as possible. We developed our view of what a successful DEI action plan could yield at Tuck, knowing that despite the challenges and discomfort we may face, that we have both a duty and an opportunity to help make the world a more equal, more just, and more inclusive place beginning with our own community.

Our Approach

- Think big picture (forest) while balancing practical implementation (trees)
- Promote clarity, transparency, and trust. Make it safe to experiment and learn from our mistakes
- Work value focuses on impact, progress, and data driven decision making
- Cultivate collaboration and a collective movement towards DEI practices
- Nurture creativity, encourage expansive thinking, and embrace diversity of thought and dissenting opinions

Success for Tuck’s DEI Action Plan:

1. Positions Tuck as a destination for diverse students, staff, and faculty
2. Impacts academic, professional, and social aspects of student life
3. Includes participation from multiple constituents to shape, own, deliver and sustain
4. Is dynamic and will evolve; it will be creative and flexible, not prescriptive
5. Is delivered and owned in multiple places, success is not dependent on a single person or team
6. Prepares students to thrive in the workplace and lead businesses of the future
7. DEI becomes a cornerstone of Tuck’s demonstrated values
STRATEGIC REVIEW

— PRINCIPLES THAT GUIDED OUR RESEARCH AND SOLUTIONS
— THE DISCOVERY PROCESS
— GENERAL TAKEAWAYS
— FINDING THEMES
— EMERGING PRIORITIES
The DEI working team established 10 principles that guided our approach to the work and would inform our recommendations and solutions.

REINFORCE TUCK’S MISSION
Tuck develops wise, decisive, and inclusive leaders who better the world through business.

LEADING EDGE W/ DARTMOUTH
Partner with and be at the forefront of DEI efforts across Dartmouth College.

OFFER THE BEST LEARNING EXPERIENCE
Set a high quality bar and aim to be best in class to cultivate wise business leaders prepared for a diverse world.

STRATEGIC, PRIORITIZED, AND PRACTICAL
Set long term goals with actionable plans that drive impact.

SYSTEMATIC AND SCALABLE
Develop sustainable systems, structures and tools that drive institutional and individual engagement.

MODEL FROM THE TOP
Senior leadership models commitment with actions and words.

ACTIONABLE, MEASURABLE, ACCOUNTABLE
Prioritize and implement DEI efforts whose impact can be identified, measured, and assessed.

TRANSPARENT COMMUNICATIONS
Share updates on progress with courage to own mistakes, misses and learnings.

PROACTIVE AND PARTICIPATORY
Engage the Tuck/Dartmouth and Upper Valley communities in thoughtful dialogue, celebrate difference, raise awareness.

INTEGRATED EXPERIENCE
Opportunities to learn and grow are integrated across student life, academic life and extra-curricular activities. Faculty, staff and alumni feel informed and included.
We sought to gather candid observations, feedback, and ideas from the Tuck community to help us direct focus and prioritize our analysis.

Through synthesis, we found the strongest themes, insights, and supporting details in the highest need areas to tee up analysis and ideation.

665 SURVEY PARTICIPANTS

We gathered quantitative data inviting all Tuck MBA students, alumni, faculty, and staff to surface patterns around the highest frequency themes + open feedback entries.

GO WIDE

100+ LIVE CONVERSATIONS

We dug deeper behind those key questions engaging in rich dialogue to uncover the motivations, drivers, emotions and connections behind them.

GO DEEP

COMPETITIVE INTEL AND BEST PRACTICES

Through our secondary research, we unearthed benchmarks and examples of “best in class” organizations and approaches that provided further inspiration and ideation to advance DEI.
EMPATHY AND UNDERSTANDING
One of the strongest unanimous themes, people articulated a desire for safety, candor, courage, empathy and dialogue.

AVOIDANCE AS HINDRANCE
Friendly 1:1 and pleasant interpersonal translates to issue avoidance or tendency to shy away from conflict, addressing bias, and learning from mistakes.

BE BEST IN CLASS
Tuck’s efforts should reflect our desire and capability to be a world class institution with an inclusive culture that inspires the world.

BEYOND VISIBLE DIVERSITY
Equity and inclusion means broader representation beyond gender or race. Nurture, embrace all forms of difference.

REDUCE MINORITY FATIGUE
Eliminate the need for historically excluded groups default voice to educate, discuss, address and answer questions pertaining to DEI, causing stress, fatigue and at times (reliving) trauma.

SYSTEMS VS. PERSONS
Develop systems and create sustainable, consistent opportunities for education, celebration and communications that help people feel included and informed.

PLATFORMS TO DIALOGUE
Students, faculty and staff cite a need for forums, facilitation, safe spaces, and “know how” to encourage deeper discussion on DEI.

TALE OF TWO EXPERIENCES
Lived experiences, perceptions and sense of belonging differ greatly. Excluded groups lack connection and confidence from not seeing themselves reflected in case studies and faculty.

CELEBRATE DIFFERENCE
Avoid viewing all community members as the same to avoid offense, instead of celebrating differences, lived experiences and promoting learning.

TOP-DOWN COMMITMENT
Leadership vision, action, and communication is both expected and required for people to feel DEI is truly a priority.

PASSIVE VS. ACTIVE ALLEYSHIP
While everyone can express ethical value of DEI, the predominant approach is one of passive support vs. active engagement.

WISE AND PREPARED
Incorporate DEI more fully and intentionally into the curricular and co-curricular experience to develop leaders prepared for a diverse, complex world.

GENERAL TAKEAWAYS
During our analysis, 12 insights emerged as core issues that need to be addressed to fulfill our mission and vision for DEI at Tuck.

FINDING THEMES
Increasing diversity in student, faculty and staff alone isn't sufficient, also cover:

- Being able to see myself at Tuck
- Mono-culture and profile
- Brand, perception and appeal for URM communities
- Not limited to visible diversity

In order for DEI efforts to be successful and sustainable, they require a nurturing culture where the following are present:

- Safety, candor, and trust
- DEI environment and norms
- Platforms to dialogue/engage
- Leaning into courage

Integrating DEI into academic, social and community involves:

- Wise and prepared leaders in DEI
- Bridging gap between tale of two experiences
- Integrated focus and foundational expectations and preparation

Progress & results require active participation from everyone:

- Active vs. passive allyship
- Education, training, tools
- Collective accountability to reduce minority fatigue

Doing the work pairs alongside talking about the work and progress under way:

- Clarity of goals and focus
- Reporting on progress and metrics
- Humility and honesty at the good and bad, and success and failures

During our analysis, we recognized that the 8 themes that were identified could be synthesized into 5 emerging priorities. As we assessed the recommendations and priorities, the team realized that allyship and communication were not necessarily separate areas of focus so much as critical elements that were undercurrents to addressing representation, inclusion, and the curriculum.

DEI & The Tuck Curriculum: Tuck’s rigorous and relevant curriculum evolves to meet the needs of our students and to reflect the important changes going on in the world. One example of the evolving curricular content at Tuck is Managing Organizations (MO), the final organizational behavior installment in the MBA program’s required core curriculum. MO builds on ideas developed in Tuck Launch (orientation) and the Managing People course and focuses on how organizations get things done.
